Detailed Report

The workshop entitled Two Day Hands-on Training on ICT and AI Tools conducted by Dr. Neenu Kuriakose, Assistant Professor at Rajagiri College of Management and Applied Sciences, Kakkanad held on 20-03-2024 to 21-03-2024, aimed to familiarize 50 participants with the fundamentals of Information and Communication Technology (ICT) and Artificial Intelligence (AI) in education. The session focused on effective pedagogical strategies for integrating these tools to enhance active learning, critical thinking, and problem-solving skills among students. Ethical implications and privacy concerns related to ICT and AI use were also addressed, emphasizing responsible practices and data protection.

The workshop, held in computer lab, facilitated interactive discussions and practical insights, coordinated by Ms. Dhanya S under the oversight of the IQAC. Participants engaged actively throughout the workshop, gaining practical insights into leveraging ICT and AI tools effectively in educational contexts. Dr. Neenu Kuriakose's expertise and interactive teaching style enabled robust discussions on implementing these technologies to promote a dynamic learning environment. Attendees explored case studies and hands-on demonstrations, deepening their understanding of how ICT and AI can be tailored to enhance curriculum delivery and student engagement. By the end of the session, participants were equipped with strategies to navigate ethical considerations and ensure responsible usage of these technologies, poised to integrate innovative approaches into their teaching practices for future-ready classrooms.

The workshop concluded with a rich array of insights and discussions aimed at transforming educational practices. Beginning with a serene prayer and a warm welcome address by Mr. Tennyson Thomas, Ms. Renjini D's inaugural address underscored the importance of technological integration in education. Sessions led by Dr. Neenu Kuriakose delved into practical applications and pedagogical frameworks, empowering participants with hands-on experiences and innovative teaching methodologies. The event brought together participants in a collaborative spirit, culminating in Evelyn Mariya John's vote of thanks. She expressed gratitude to all involved and highlighted the workshop's commitment to equipping educators for the technologically advanced classrooms of tomorrow.

Feedback Report

The workshop on Two Day Hands-on Training on ICT and AI Tools received overwhelmingly positive feedback from participants. Attendees appreciated the comprehensive insights provided by Dr. Neenu Kuriakose and the practical sessions that demonstrated effective integration of ICT and AI in education. Participants highlighted the relevance of the workshop's content to current educational trends and expressed readiness to implement new strategies in their teaching practices. The event was praised for its organization, relevance, and the opportunity it provided to explore innovative approaches to teaching and learning.
